

MainView for the Modern Mainframe

Take a proactive approach to mainframe systems management: analytics, automation, and built-in intelligence to help find, detect, and fix issues faster.

Build on Intelligent Automation

With automation rules and smart alarms, you can analyze changing conditions and update thresholds for easier problem detection, prevention, and mitigation.

“ We are able to construct automation solutions that save us time, money, and personnel. The monitoring is dramatically open to our operation staff. They are able to customize their views and alter to unusual situations if called for. ”

— Systems Programmer, State & Local Government

“ MainView has reduced the time our admins are looking at screens. We now rely on alerts rather than watching monitors which has freed us up significantly. It has also reduced downtime significantly as we know about issues before they become problems for the business and can take action. ”

— Systems Programmer, Small Business Insurance Company

Proactively Prevent Problems

Pinpoint an issue the moment it occurs and identify the root cause with advanced analytics and intelligence, improving availability and SLA targets and eliminating inefficient diagnostic activities.

“ MainView allowed us to rapidly identify the root cause of a problem and then apply a fix. This keeps service outages to a minimum. ”

— IT Planning, State & Local Government

“ MainView has reduced team learning time and allows for quick identification of the problem. ”

— Operations Manager, Large Enterprise Banking Company

Find and fix issues faster

Get real-time and historical performance metrics from a single point of control, empowering your team to spot, isolate, and fix issues faster, swiftly returning applications to expected levels of performance.

“ MainView has improved collaboration between teams, as problems often cross over between the Performance, CICS/MQ/DB2 and z/OS teams. ”

— IT Architect, Large Enterprise Financial Services Company

A Fortune 500 retail company reports that MainView helped them find and fix problems >75% faster.

Go Modern with MainView

MainView's holistic approach to mainframe systems management helps you effectively track and manage performance, identify potential issues, and fix problems before they affect critical services.
